

Lead the Change

KGVK, a social enterprise for inclusive growth, has a hybrid model that combines proven business principles to address development challenges through its integrated model of Total Village Management (TVM). KGVK directly operates in six districts of Jharkhand.

KGVK's social venture arm, KGVK Social Enterprises Limited promotes, incubates and supports formation of new social enterprises, along with ongoing management services support. At present, it promotes two enterprises – KGVK Rural Enterprises in the area of rural employment and last mile services, and KGVK Agro in providing market linkage and development of low-cost tools targeted at small farmers. At least two other businesses are under incubation. This convergent model provides a unique ecosystem to bring together new ideas, high quality talent, experienced grassroots practitioners, cross-learning opportunities, access to shared resources, bottom-up innovation opportunities, thus fostering sustainable entrepreneurship with potential for large scale social impact.

Some of KGVK's past and present partners include the Government of Jharkhand, agencies of the Govt. of India, NABARD, Sri Ratan Tata Trust, Axis Bank Foundation, IFC Washington, Som Datt Foundation, India-Canada Environment Facility, and Austrian Development Agency.

KGVK is a Corporate Social Enterprise Initiative of the $1 billion Usha Martin Group.

We invite you to explore opportunities to be part of the KGVK family, and to be in the midst of where the seeds for transformational grassroots change are being sown. We promise an experience that will keep you on your toes & a career path that is among the best in the sector.

KGVK'S HUMAN CAPITAL INITIATIVE

{ the Rukka Collective }

As part of the ongoing human capital development efforts, KGVK has launched "The RUKKA COLLECTIVE", a continuing effort to bring the best talent to be part of this emerging social enterprise hub based out of the 50 acre KGVK Gurukul campus in Rukka village, 15km from Ranchi in Jharkhand, Eastern India.

Rukka, home to KGVK, has a 40 acre agriculture demonstration farm, an integrated dairy farm, residential Auxiliary Nursing Midwives (ANM) college, low cost rural school, 25-bed rural hospital, a Rural BPO center, residential training facility, all of which act as learning and incubation facilities.

Apart from over 200 full-time employees from reputed institutes and diversified backgrounds and geographies, KGVK also attracts fellows, interns and researchers from ICICI Foundation, American India Foundation, UNICEF, TISS, XISS, XLRI, University of Strathclyde, R K Mission University, S P Jain School of Management and London School of Economics.
